The Ministerial Crisis.

The Times states that the Queen will not return from Scotland till the morning of the 20th; therefore, expected explanations cannot be given to Parliament until that day. It is extensively believed that the Queen will give the Ministers their option as to a dissolution of Parliament. The Times thinks a dissolution possable, but improbable. The Sar thinks the prospects of a dissolution are clear, and believes the Queen has not the slightest objection. Public meetings were being held in the large towns in support of the Government and Reform.

"The Miantonemah is a new ship, having been only completed last Autumn, and her present voyage is morely designed to test her seagoing qualities. By these on board the trial appears to be regarded as a perfect success. She has come hitter from New York, having called at Helfax and at St. John's, Newfoundland; and from the last port she has made the voyage in 10 days 10 hours. Crossing the Bay of Fundy, she encountered weather which, without amounting to a gale, was considered very bolsterous, but she rode through it easily. On the voyage to Queenstown the indicator marked magnetic rolling than 7°, while 2° is stated to be the average. Her paddlewheel comor's, on the other hand, folled to a maximum of 18° and 24° respectively. The speed she attained was respectable, and, considering her build, rather surprising. When leaving St Johns she drew 15 feet 10 inches water, having on board 320 times fees lin her bunkers, 30 tims in a crib on deck, and about 20 tims in bags in the turrets. With this quantity on board economy was considered necessary. Her motive power consists of four engines, driving twin screws, which are brass, four-bladed of 12 feet diameter, and of a graduated pitch with a mean of 18. At full speed her consumption of coal would be 40 tims per 24 hours, but to spare fuel she was not driven, and was even run at slow speed sometimes. Her average therefore was about seven knots an hour. Her maximum speed would be about nice. She has nought with her 40 tims of stores, and has lightened by about 10 timehes of her draught.

The Daily New thus comments on the report.

The Commissioners. In preparing their report, seem to have gone to work with great reluciance. At every thin they have to speak of horroble deeds done with a heartiness of disposition and an every of will which make the reader shader, and for which senebody must surely be responsible, and these they do not conseal; but again and again they stop that, when a single step further would have compelled them to denounce not only a crume but a crumeal. When they think they have never at the express of the twelf masked in the presence of the footless misdeeds, from the beginning to me emi of the report they do not declayedly condenn a single step further would have been grounded to me owardice, they have nevertheless delivered a judgment upon the conduct of the damain General manifest and they consume they have nevertheless delivered a judgment upon the conduct of the footless that have been pronounced on them in this country. With all their propensity to periphrastic explemism, they are divised to declare that the deeds done in the name of the Quees, of England, of loyalty and of patriotism, were most affections in their character."

The Ness says further: "Mr. Cardwell has assumed the responsibility of characterizing the conduct which the Commissioners had treated with such all judged leniency."

and I think there should be known Liferals in the Ministry, and I think there will.

The money difficulty continues. That gold is worth twenty per cent premium is not strange, but it is astonishing that small bills cost from eight to fifteen per cent. promium. The only notes of the bank which seem to abound are those for one thousand francs. All below that cost somethine, twenty and ten franc notes varying between ten and fifteen per cent.

Berti, who, under the Minister of Finance, has charge of this branch of the public business, insulted the public and the Chamber of Deputies to-day by denying that this premium exists at all except in the brains of malicious people. Half of the Deputies laughed at his innocence, and the other half repibel: "Why, Sir, we have paid it. You cannot find a man not a bank director who has not paid it."
